WJMF Shows Support For Troops in the Gulf

Bryant Senior Brandon Hay relays a message to his best friend, Airforce enlistee Doug Pelletier, who is serving in the Persian Gulf.

Mark Plihcik
Archway Staff Writer

WJMF joined in the campus-wide show of support for our troops serving in the Middle East when the Cyndi and Magic show, hosted by Cyndi Tarbell and Dave Kaplan, invited friends and families of troops to come to the station's studios to record a message to their loved ones in the gulf. The messages will be sent to Saudi Arabia.

During the show, Kaplan and Tarbell played songs with a "come back soon" theme, including "Don't You Forget About Me," by Simple Minds, "Don't Give Up," by Peter Gabriel, "Get Back," by the Beatles, and Bruce Springsteen's super-patriot song, "Born in the USA." The tapes sent to the gulf will also have a recording of the songs.

The show, a weekly program since last semester, normally plays a weekly top 10 list along a theme, and this is where Kaplan got the idea for the show.

"I thought about doing a top 10 of support songs, then I said 'why not tape the songs and send it to the troops.' And from there, we got the idea of inviting people from the community to record messages to their friends and relatives in the gulf."

Although turnout in the first two hours of the show was somewhat disappointing, the last hour saw a number of people recorded messages, including several non-students. Kaplan feels this was due to a lack of publicity.

"With only a week to prepare, it was hard to get the word out. Most of it was word of mouth, and there was an article in the Providence Journal on Monday," said Kaplan.

Senior Brandon Hay sent a message to his friend Doug Pelletier, a U.S. Airforce enlistee: "We're hoping you guys all get home soon - get over there, do your job and get out soon."

Strong support for the show has been shown from many campus organizations in the form of donations to defer the costs of the cassette tapes and postage to Saudi Arabia.

"All of the sororities have pledged money. Residence Hall Association will donate money from their valentine's flower sale, and many other organizations have promised to donate money," commented Kaplan.

Forum Presents Gulf War Debate

A forum on the Persian Gulf was attended by over 100 students and faculty in the Bryant Center on January 31. Eleven speakers presented their views on the Gulf from experience in the region, the military, academic, and historical points of view.

Professor Glen Camp, a teacher of international relations, said that America had fallen into Saddam Hussein's trap - creation of a new wave of fundamentalist Moslem aggression against the United States and the West in general.

He mentioned the rising population of Shi'ite Moslems from Morocco to Ethiopia and especially in Turkey. Camp said the aggression by Iraq against Kuwait could only be reversed by a military victory. He warned that cease-fire negotiations could leave troops in a confused and vulnerable state.

Dr. Sam Mirmirani, an Iranian born economics professor, talked about the role of Iran in the conflict. Mirmirani said that despite popular suspicion of Iran, he believes Iran is not emotionally or physically ready to help Iraq. The country's motivation for allowing Iraqi planes into Iran is to use the planes as a bargaining chip to get "a piece of the American pie." Egypt has had its $6 billion debt wiped out; Israel has received money; and Iran would like $200 billion of frozen assets in the U.S. to be released.

Iran will maintain her neutrality, Mirmirani said, keeping the planes in Iran if her assets are released by the U.S. Otherwise, Mirmirani continued, Iran has the option of returning the planes to Saddam Hussein.

Mirmirani agreed with Camp that the spread of fundamentalism is a larger threat than the Iraqi military. The weakening of Iraqi leadership, will leave Iran with a large population of Shi'ites to add to its fundamentalist power.

Kuwaiti born Palestinian graduate student Mahmud Ahwadi spoke about the policies in the area that directly affect him and his family. "When someone threatens to drop a bomb on your mother you tend to look at things differently," said Ahwadi.

Ahwadi said that before the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait, there were conflicts on the matter of oil fields. The Kuwaiti government asked Iraq to repay loans made during the Iran-Iraq war. Ahwadi said Iraq felt no obligation to repay the loans since they defended Kuwait from Iran, and Kuwait had wrongfully removed oil from Iraqi oil fields during the Iran-Iraq war.

"Iraq felt that she deserved a Marshall type plan for the defense of Middle Eastern countries from Iran," Ahwadi said.

The two governments were about to come to terms when the U.S. government got involved. According to Ahwadi, the U.S. government impeded any possible reconciliation. The U.S. government saw the conflict as a chance to "kill off" the Iraqi military threat and achieve a better balance of power to prevent acts of aggression against Israel.

Dr. Burt Fischman, back from a recent visit to Israel, spoke about the misrepresentation of the Palestinian people in the U.S. He said that the moderate Palestinian voice is not heard in the U.S. Fischman quoted an Israeli cab driver. "Let's give the Palestinians something; I want peace for my children." Fischman also said the U.S. government is giving the people a narrow point of view; that there is a "spectrum of points of view in Israel."

Captain Jim Parker, commanding officer of the ROTC program at Bryant, brought the point of view of a military man, although he stressed it was his, not an official military point of view. Parker said, "Oil is definitely part of it."

He also said that when Saddam Hussein abandoned political methods, he had to be stopped and the U.S. is the only country big enough to enforce international law. He said that a large ground assault is likely once the Iraqi troops in Kuwait are cut off. Parker felt that the press is too optimistic.

Dr. Alexandra Jaffe, an Army reservist, spoke of loyalty to the system and how it is possible to have simultaneous perspectives and yet universal support for the troops. She said when we elect Congresspersons, we delegate responsibility to them. According to Jaffe, two valid points of view are "you support congress and their decisions and question the decisions made by Congress." She said to keep the community strong it is important to have political tolerance.

Professor William Graves said that students have come to him with difficult dilemmas such as, "I have mixed feelings; why should we be doing this?", "since we are already committed to this, do I dare say or have feelings of opposition?", and "I want to speak out but I don't want to appear not to support the troops and decrease their morale."

Graves is a Vietnam veteran and spent his 21st birthday under rocket fire. He spoke of a marine general in Saudi Arabia who had received a baptism of fire in the Vietnam conflict. The general said he would pass onto the young troops the wisdom he gained in Vietnam. The general continued that war is chaos

Fischman Speaks on the State of Israel

Professor Burt Fischman, who recently returned from Israel, spoke yesterday afternoon on the state of mind of the Israeli people and their views on the Middle East war. Fischman noted that, contrary to popular belief, a great many Israelis want peace with the Palestinian people living in the occupied West Bank, and they are willing to make concessions to achieve peace. Fischman also believes that Israel isn't likely to get into a war unless they can do something that hasn't been done yet.

Forty Five Years, for the Students

"Our liberty depends on the freedom of the press, and that cannot be limited without being lost"

Thomas Jefferson

Nearly 200 years after Thomas Jefferson spoke these words, The Archway celebrates its 45th year of using the free press to keep the Bryant Community informed of issues concerning them.

Enclosed in this issue is The Archway 45th Anniversary Issue, which re-produces the first issue of The Archway and presents a history of the newspaper and other campus organizations. From the beginning, The Archway has been published with the students in mind.

"Each and every student," the premiere issue stated, "is invited to contribute news items, poems, classroom jokes, or any other material that you would like to have printed in the paper." The invitation also asked for letters to the editor or other stories from the student body and stated that "all material submitted that can...be used will be published as received."

It has been this open submission policy that has allowed The Archway to become an objective and respected source of information for the Bryant Community.

Since its creation by members of the student body in 1946, The Archway has provided a forum for communication where students and the faculty can voice concerns and opinions and discuss relevant issues.

As world turmoil continues to grow, unrestricted expression is critical to understanding the issues that affect us. But freedom of the press has not always been guaranteed at Bryant. During the 1950s and 1960s, a faculty advisor often suppressed editorials and articles deemed too critical of the administration.

Fortunately for the Bryant Community, the reigns of censorship were lifted in 1968 and true freedom of the press was granted, giving the entire Bryant Community an open forum for the discussion of their ideas and concerns.

The Archway has come a long way in 45 years, but one thing hasn't changed: The Archway is published by students, for students.

Congratulations on Formal Rush

Letter to the Editor:

I would like to congratulate the Panhellenic Council and Ellen Servetnick for an outstanding job during the Formal Rush period last week. These women are to be commended for their outstanding dedication and willingness to work together. The tasks they attempted were without precedent and failure was a definite possibility. However, the ceremony that took place on Thursday night in the Rotunda showed that the hard work was well worth the effort put in.

As a member of the Greek Community, it was an inspiration to see how much the Sororities have changed in the past few years. I had never before seen such an energetic display of enthusiasm among these groups. I hope that the inspiration I felt will reach the entire Greek Community and show that by working together we can accomplish the goal of creating a more positive Greek image.

An Obligation to Stop Ruthless Aggression

Editor's Note: This is a copy of the letter that President George Bush sent to college newspapers across the nation on January 10, five days before the beginning of Operation Desert Storm. The Archway did not receive the letter from the president. We received this copy of the letter on Thursday, January 31 from the World Federalist Association, a group representing 14 organizations opposed to U.S. involvement in the Persian Gulf.

To the Editor:

If armed men invaded a home in this country, killed those in their way, stole what they wanted and then announced the house was now theirs - no-one would hesitate about what must be done.

And that is why we cannot hesitate about what must be done halfway around the world: in Kuwait.

There's much in the modern world that is subject to doubts or questions - washed in shades of gray. But not the brutal aggression of Saddam Hussein against a peaceful, sovereign nation and its people. It's black and white. The facts are clear. The choice unambiguous.

Right vs. Wrong

The terror Saddam Hussein has imposed upon Kuwait violates every principle of human decency. Listen to what Amnesty International has documented. "Wide spread abuses of human rights have been perpetrated by Iraqi forces...arbitrary arrest and detention without trial of thousands...widespread torture...imposition of the death penalty and the extrajudicial execution of hundreds of unarmed civilians, including children."

Including children. There's no horror that could make this a more obvious conflict of good vs. evil. The man who used chemical warfare on his own people - once again including children - now oversees public hangings of dissenters. And daily his troops commit atrocities against Kuwaiti citizens.

This brutality has reverberated throughout the entire world. If we do not follow the dictates of our inner moral compass and stand up for human life, then his lawlessness will threaten the peace and democracy of the emerging New World Order we now see: this long-dreamed-of vision we've all worked toward for so long.

A year after the joyous dawn of freedom's light in Eastern Europe, a dark evil has descended in another part of the world. But we have the chance - and we have the obligation - to stop ruthless aggression.

I have been in war. I have known the terror of combat. And I tell you this with all my heart: I don't want there to be war ever again. I am determined to do absolutely everything possible in the search for a peaceful resolution to this crisis - but only if the peace is genuine, if it rests on principle, not appeasement.

But while we search for that answer, in the Gulf young men and women are putting their own lives on hold in order to stand for peace in our world and for the essential value of human life itself. Many are younger than my own children. Your age, most of them. Doing tough duty for something they believe in.

Let me tell you about one of the soldiers over there, S.F.C. Terry Hatfield, a young man from Georgia. He sent me a Christmas card. And this is what he wrote:

"Mr. President, I just wanted you to know my soldiers and I are ready to do whatever mission you decide. Freedom as we know and enjoy has been taken away from another country and must be restored. Al-

Tie a Yellow Ribbon...

Kelly A. Cartwright
Archway Staffwriter

While most students were playing outdoors to take advantage of the unseasonably warm weather on Monday, February 4th, Leslie Catuogno, a Resident Assistant in Hall 10, was initiating activities for a cause. Catuogno, who feels that "as students we should show our support for the troops" organized a yellow ribbon tying ceremony at a tree outside of Hall 10 for her third and fourth floor residents.

"My residents really care about things and they're not afraid to show it," asserted Catuogno. She added that this was evidenced by their show of patriotism and troop support in their suites. Other RA's and passersbys who joined the Dorm 10 residents in tying yellow ribbons on the tree branches wrote names of friends and family members who are serving in the Middle East on the ribbons.

Also tied to the tree with the yellow ribbons is a copy of the poem Hug O' War. Resident Director for the suites, Carla Zwick, shared the poem with the RA's on the night their fellow RA Vic Khana returned from his home in the Middle East. Because of the personal significance of the poem to the staff and its theme of peace, Catuogno chose to incorporate the poem with her ceremony.

Hug O' War

I will not play at tug o' war,
I'd rather play at hug o' war,
Where everyone hugs
Instead of tugs
Where everyone giggles
And rolls on the rug,
Where everyone kisses
And everyone grins,
And everyone cuddles,
And everyone wins.

Residents of Hall 10 display their support of the U.S. troops in the Persian Gulf by adorning a nearby tree with yellow ribbons.

RA Leslie Catuogno initiated the ceremony for her residents in Hall 10. Catuogno added this was another show of troop support by her residents.

Black History Month Kicks Off Annual Celebration

President William E. Trueheart kicked off the second annual Bryant College celebration of Black History Month Monday, February 4. The President's address marked the opening reception for an art exhibit by the Cape Verdean Artists' League. The exhibit will be on display in the library for the month of February.

Monday's opening events will be followed by a wide variety of activities throughout the month: performances by a comedian, gospel groups, and theatre group; a "brown bag lunch" series by Bryant professors on the roots of rap music, current affirmative action issues, and black poetry and music; a prominent guest speaker, and a minority alumni weekend.

Matthew Barros, President of the Cape Verdean Artist's League, introduces League artists Pauline and Daniel Lima during the opening ceremonies of the Black History Month Celebration at Bryant.

News Briefs:

BOMBS FOUND IN NORFOLK, VA.: Terrorism was no longer a remote concept Monday for many residents of the Norfolk, Va., area - home to five military bases, including Norfolk Naval Base, the world's largest. Earlier in the day, officers safely removed six pipe bombs from two chemical tanks in an area 10 miles from the naval base. People in the area were taking precautions.

GM CUTS DIVIDEND: General Motors Corp.'s board of directors Monday cut its common stock dividend and announced plans to trim its salaried work force by 15 percent, or 15,000 employees, over the next two years. The quarterly dividend was cut from 75 cents per common share to 40 cents. It was only the third time the nation's largest automaker has taken such action, a spokesman said.

DOLE TO VOLUNTEER: Elizabeth Dole, beginning her first day as president of the Red Cross, said she will forgo the $200,000 first-year salary to show that volunteers are the "heart and soul" of the humanitarian organization. "The best way I can let volunteers know of their importance is to be one of them - to earn the patch on my sleeve," she said.

SPY SENTENCED: Ex-FBI agent Richard Miller, 53, was sentenced to 20 years in prison for espionage in a sex-for-secrets romance with a Soviet agent. Miller - eligible for parole in seven years - is the only FBI agent ever convicted of spying. He originally drew two life terms, but appealed and got a new trial.

FAA PROBLEMS SURFACE: Long-festering problems at the Federal Aviation Administration may have played a part in Friday's fiery airline crash at Los Angeles International Airport. The National Transportation Safety Board is probing several factors raised repeatedly by FAA critics - from staffing to broken radar gear - that may have affected the controller's ability to keep track of airplanes under her command.

IRAQ HEADQUARTERS MOVED: Allied warplanes are bombing Iraqi military targets at the rate of more than one sortie a minute, prompting Iraqi officials to make unorthodox moves to escape pounding. U.S. Allied Commander Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf said Iraqi military headquarters are being moved into schools and aircraft are being hidden in civilian neighborhoods.

USA REDUCES STAFF IN JORDAN: Growing anti-American sentiment in Jordan has prompted the U.S. Embassy to reduce its staff and urge U.S. citizens to leave the country. The embassy plans to evacuate 12 staffers, leaving 20 of the delegation's original 130 diplomats in Jordan. Embassy officials say they will now only be able to provide emergency services to the estimated 4,000 U.S. citizens left in Jordan.

ISRAEL AWAITS CHEM WARFARE: Seven days a week, Israel awaits an Iraqi chemical attack with an elaborate plan that includes using a half-mile section of a city street as a decontamination center. At the Sourasky Medical Center in Tel Aviv, dozens of soldiers stand guard 24 hours a day in full chemical gear. Whenever an air-raid siren sounds soldiers seal off a half-mile section of a nearby street.

YUGOSLAVIAN GOV'T PROTESTS: The Yugoslav national government protested to its neighbor Hungary over what it called illegal arms exports to the northern Yugoslav republic of Croatia, the Tanjug news agency reported. Yugoslav federal officials say Croatia may have illegally imported up to 36,000 Soviet-made AK-47 automatic rifles.

DRUG LORDS WANT CHANGES: Colombia's drug lords called for abolition of extradition and other changes in the law, one day before the 73-member national assembly begins the biggest overhaul of the Constitution in 105 years. The demands reinforce widespread fears the drug lords will attempt to pressure the assembly into concessions.

IRAQI REFUGEES FLOOD JORDAN: Refugees fleeing bombed-out Iraqi cities carry stories of deprivation to Jordan. "Basra is a very miserable place," said Nawal Issa, a Jordanian woman going home. Refugees arriving in Jordan on Monday said they fled into the desert when allied planes bombed the Iraqi border post of Trebil during the night. A 50-mile no-man's land separates Trebil from Ruweishid.

and that Murphy's law applies. Graves quoted the general, "For you marines, it is not about ideology or patriotism, it is about the love of your comrades and selflessness."

Graves' experiences in combat were similar to the general's. Graves said, "it was the love of my buddies which got me through." He said that whatever the American people have to say about this war is irrelevant. He did not know about Kent State and other protests until he returned and even if he had known, it was irrelevant to him because he was fighting for his life.

Graves felt that it is important to speak one's mind. He noted that speaking out does not mean "to go out and burn the flag, to behave irresponsibly." Speaking out entails participating in rallies, writing to Congress and writing editorials. He said that our responsibility is to let the voices be heard, and to listen carefully to different opinions.

Graves encouraged people to speak out, saying that this process is crucial to democracy. "I don't want to hear anyone say 'you can't express that.'" "Wars," he continued, "can be started and stopped anytime; there is no logical reason to fight to the death." By stopping the war Graves meant a cease-fire, an end to the bloodshed, and a pick up of negotiations on a new footing.

Professor Joseph Urgo said the world had enjoyed limited wars during the last 40 years because the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. had been able to keep one another in check. Now that the U.S.S.R. is unable to keep the U.S. in check, wider conflicts are possible.

According to Urgo, George Bush is talking about the new American Century. "The American Century" was a term used before WW II to describe America's imperialistic sphere of influence. Urgo said there is a danger of American righteousness and referred to the CBS program "Showdown In The Gulf," as an example. Urgo said, "Showdowns" remind us of a small American town and the conflict between a good guy and a bad guy. The Middle East is not a small American town, it is not even America." He warned against demonizing Iraq because they are people, not creatures. He said war is not moral unless you are defending your own house.

Professor Lance Heiko said it is important to understand the culture, heritage and psyche of the area. Heiko listed the Iraqi grievances against Kuwait pointing out that the grievances are not his point of view but will help explain Iraq's attitude.

He quoted from Walid Khalidi's book The Gulf Crises: Origins and Consequences. "The grievances are the historical claim of Iraq to Kuwait; the disputed border between the two countries; Iraq's need for alternative access routes to the Gulf; over production of oil by Kuwait resulting in loss of Iraqi revenue; Kuwait's stealing of oil from the Iraqi Rumaila oil field; Kuwait's refusal to cancel the Iraqi debt incurred during the Iran-Iraq war; alleged Kuwaiti complicity with foreign powers to retard Iraq's economic recovery; the failure of Kuwait (and other Arab countries) to initiate an Arab Marshall plan to help Iraq; alleged Kuwaiti refusal to amicably settle these issues."

Professor Michael Fraleigh illustrated the point that being college students in an academic environment, we have the luxury of probing beneath the surface. Rather than just accepting the hype of the media, we can read and research into aspects of the Arab world. We can look beneath the superficial reasons for war (such as we are protecting the American way of life.)

The speakers agreed it is a good thing that we are able to talk about the war in the gulf academically. Strong emotions surrounded the issues discussed; however the forum was conducted in an amicable manner. The mood of the forum was we are all in this together, regardless of race, religion, nationality or opinion.

Obligation,

though we are separated from family, friends, loved ones, we will do what must be done...We stand ready and waiting. God Bless you and the U.S.A."

Terry understands the moral obligation that has compelled our extraordinary multi-national coalition to make this stand in the Gulf. To look this international terrorist straight in the eye and say: no concessions. To proclaim for now and for the future: no compromises. To bear witness by our presence to the fact that aggression will not be rewarded.

Terry waits thousands of miles from the White House, yet we share the same thoughts. We desperately want peace. But we know that to reward aggression would be to destroy the United Nation's promise as international peace-keeper. To reward aggression would be to condone the acts of those who would desecrate the promise of human life itself.

And we will do none of this. There are times in life when we confront values worth fighting for. This is one such time.

Each day that passes means another day for Iraq's forces to dig deeper into their stolen land. Another day Saddam Hussein can work toward building his nuclear arsenal and perfecting his chemical and biological weapons capability. Another day of atrocities for Amnesty International to document. Another day of international out-laws, instead of international law.

I ask you to think about the economic devastation that Saddam Hussein would continue to wreak on the worlds emerging democracies if he were in control of one-fifth of the world's oil reserves. And to reflect on the terrible threat that a Saddam Hussein armed with weapons of mass destruction already poses to human life and to the future of all nations.

Together, as an America united against these horrors, we can, with our coalition partners assure that this aggression is stopped and the principles on which this nation and the rest of the civilized world are founded are preserved.

And so let us remember and support Terry Hatfield, all our fine servicemen and women, as they stand ready on the frontier of freedom, willing to do their duty and do it well. They deserve our complete and enthusiastic support and lasting gratitude.

Sincerely,
George Bush
President of the United States of America

Fire Alarm

On the afternoon of January 29, Public Safety and the Smithfield Fire Dept. responded to an automatic fire alarm in Residence Hall 2. The cause of the alarm was an activated heat detector on the third floor. The alarm was classified as accidental due to the fact that the student who was playing ball had come forward to admit it.

Car Fire

At approximately 11:30 pm on January 31, the Public Safety Office had received several reports of a car fire in the Residence Hall 1 circle. The Smithfield fire Dept. was immediately notified. The first arriving officers reported heavy smoke with flames coming out from under the hood of the vehicle. The blaze was contained with portable extinguishers until the arrival of the SFD, at which time the fire-fighters put the blaze out with a 2" fire hose.

The owner stated that he was having electrical problems with his car stereo. According to the SFD's report, the fire was possibly caused by electrical wiring for the radio that was installed within the last year.

Smell of Smoke

On February 3 at approximately 1:00am, a Public Safety Officer, who was walking through the Unistructure, smelled smoke in the area of the ATM machine. Smithfield Fire Dept. was notified and responded. After a thorough search of the area, the cause was determined to be a burned out ballast in a fluorescent exit sign located near the Publication Office. The electrician on duty repaired the fixture.

Driving on Grass

A member of the grounds department notified Public Safety to investigate the presence of a motor vehicle on the grass by the basketball hoop by lot C-3. After talking with the faculty member who was playing golf, it was learned that a member of the athletic department supposedly told her that it was OK to drive on the grass. The faculty member was informed that she would be financially responsible for any damage incurred by her driving.

It should be noted that NO ONE is permitted to drive on anything except paved roadways.

Crime Watch Tip

Protect your Credit Cards. Make a list of your major credit cards, their account numbers, and the phone numbers to call if cards are lost.

Be smart-don't let anyone pull a fast one. Check to see you've been given back your card once you've paid for what you bought.

Also, when at the Gym/Mac-protect your valuables. Don't leave an expensive leather jacket or other items unattended by the racketball courts. Should anything be lost or stolen the school can not be held responsible.

Light Up Your Future by Conserving Today

by Lisa Lucchesi
Archway Staff Writer

Conservation, pollution, and budget spending are just a few of the issues that prevail in the nineties. Bill Gillmore, energy coordinator at Bryant's physical plant, has been working to control these factors right here on campus.

Previous to joining the Bryant work staff in September, Mr. Gillmore was employed at an electrical business in Providence for twenty three years. Mr. Gillmore recalls some of his more interesting jobs such as the wiring of the Mayflower, the USS Constitution, which had never been wired before, and working on offshore oil platforms.

As one can very well see, Mr. Gillmore has a great deal of knowledge in electrical work. Mr. Gillmore, along with the workers of the physical plant, and the help of Narragansett Electric Company are presently concerned with conserving electricity. Narragansett Electric Company is actually paying Bryant to save energy. They estimate that they will avoid costs of building new plants by encouraging customers to reduce consumption. They will do this by installing new bulbs with less wattage throughout the campus. These bulbs will conserve electricity, which in turn reduces pollution, and in the long run saves money.

Over four hundred and fifty of these bulbs are already installed in the Unistructure. The light is evenly distributed and shines downward reflecting light on what is directly in front of a person. Along with the installation of these new bulbs, sensor light switches were also installed in Suite G. These light switches have small computer chips with timers. When a person walks into a room, their body heat is detected and the light goes on. As long as the sensor detects this body heat the light will stay on. Approximately twelve minutes after a person leaves a room the light will automatically turn off.

These high-tech light bulbs will maximize lighting levels and the usage of power. Mr. Gillmore hopes to "upgrade these projects without having them cause a negative impact on the campus life comfort."

Bryant's electric bills are among the top fifteen largest bills in Rhode Island. This shows how many people, such as students, take electricity for granted.

Bill Gillmore's goal is to reduce utility expenses on campus and to preserve the second most important major energy resource of electricity.

All Rhode Island Can Hope for Is A Miracle

It's scary.

I'm at home watching America's Most Wanted. The newly elected governor of Rhode Island, Bruce Sundlun comes on the screen and talks about receiving a "hand written note" right after being sworn into office New Years Day declaring RISDIC insolvent. Sundlun immediately closes 45 financial thrifts in the state and Rhode Island is thrown into a chaotic mess. He goes on to talk about the man responsible for the whole collapse: Joe Mollicone—the man who single-handedly stole 13 million dollars from one bank, pushing the state insurance company, RISDIC, out of businesses.

Scary.

The State of Rhode Island is trying to come to grips with its worst fiscal crisis ever. Rhode Island faces a 200 million dollar deficit along with a 200 million dollar plus bailout of the state's failed credit unions; add to this a crippling recession throughout New England and the rest of the nation.

Looking back a couple of years, Rhode Island was a booming state.

During the late 1980's Rhode Island grew tremendously with the help of huge defense contracts and thriving tourism. Rhode Island was touted as the "smart, business alternative" to Boston or New York. Governor DiPrete smiled in national ads proclaiming Little Rhody as the "Business State of the Future." Now those dreams seem to be fading into a banking collapse and recessionary abyss.

I can trace confidence in Rhode Island to the gubernatorial election of 1988 between Sundlun and DiPrete.

Rhode Island was still experiencing the tail-end of the booming 80's. However, Governor DiPrete admitted to making millions on the now notorious "Cranston Land Deal," in which he bullied a state agency into approving construction of a project, netting DiPrete and his son millions of dollars.

DiPrete was trounced on by the media and by Sundlun's insults, but remarkably DiPrete won the election by 1% of the vote, even after admitting obvious wrongdoings. The people re-elected him because nothing was wrong with the state's economy or the economic outlook. The close election started a crisis of confidence in the state government and the state economy.

Now two years later, people are just beginning to realize the implications of the past.

Sundlun came back to overkill DiPrete in the recent election, but he was left with a shattered government.

The state was experiencing a budget deficit crisis equalling over 20% of the budget. This is larger than any state in the union. Coupled with that, the monumental failure of RISDIC, forcing Sundlun to close all state insured credit unions.

He was given all this on his first day: inauguration day.

How is Rhode Island going to get out of this catastrophe?

Sundlun's plan to make cuts and raise revenues is all anyone could do in such a precarious position. In addition, he must grapple with paying back depositors of the failed RI thrifts. He is in a no-win situation.

The economy seems to just fall deeper and deeper into the recessionary hell. Things are going to get worse—much worse. Unemployment should soar as credit unions close, state layoffs approach and consumers keep all their cash under their pillows. Economic growth should continue making negative strides as tax hikes kick in and businesses flock south or close down.

Rhode Island has no major industry that can overcome these obstacles.

Nor does it have the people to save it.

Rhode Islanders are incapable of financially saving the state. It's scary.

All we can hope for in this state is a miracle—a real miracle.

Some Reflections During a Time of War

by Father Doug Spina,
Catholic Chaplain

Can you remember back to last December when we returned home to celebrate Christmas? It was a time of joy and hope as the Christmas Message resounded in our hearts: PEACE ON EARTH, GOOD WILL TO ALL.

Sadly, we have returned to our college community with our hopes for peace dashed, our vision of peace reduced to a child's dream. We are in the midst of war and because of this sad fact our world and all the members of the human family have been assaulted and bear the wounds that multiply with every gun fired, every bomb dropped, and every tank and deadly arsenal poised to attack. That which is best about the human spirit has been cast aside, the lofty goals of peace, justice, and compassion that guide the progress of the human heart have been spurned as we find ourselves participating in an absurd drama, the multiplication of madness.

The hour of war is the darkest of all hours, for it is fraught with unspeakable human suffering and pain, death and destruction of immense proportions. I have seen it before, this ugly side of humanity, this detestable thing of our own making. War is never glorious. There are no real winners, no victors; for we are all victims, you and I, we have all lost something irretrievable: our beliefs in the basic goodness of God's creation, the mourning of our innocence sacrificed.

Perhaps the words of Viktor E. Frankl, that wonderful man who could find light even in the darkest expanses of human experience and hope in the sterile wasteland of a Nazi concentration camp, will offer some direction, some consolation. He writes:

What was really needed was a fundamental change in our attitude toward life. We had to learn ourselves and, furthermore, we had to teach the despairing men, that it really did not matter what we expected from life, but rather what life expected from us. We needed to stop asking about the meaning of life, and instead to think of ourselves as those who were being questioned by life—daily and hourly. Our answer must consist, not in talk and meditation, but in right action and in right conduct. Life ultimately means taking the responsibility to find the right answer to its problems and to fulfill the tasks which it constantly sets for each individual. (from: Man's Search for Meaning)

The work of peace and hope, compassion and love is our work. We must not fail to act always on behalf of these noble goals. To do less would be a betrayal of our own humanity which can grow and mature only when we do the right thing.

Ash Wednesday is February 13. Join us in this struggle for peace as we begin the Lenten Season. Mass will be celebrated at 12:00 noon in the auditorium and there will be an Ecumenical Lenten Service at 4:00 pm in the auditorium. Ashes will be distributed at these times. May the peace of Christ be ours.

Taxing the Stuffing Out of You

Mark Plihcik
Archway Staff Writer

We've reached that point in the year when everybody is beginning to scramble to file their tax returns. Around here that is especially true because 1) You must file your tax return in order to fill out the Financial Aid Form, which should give you just about enough aid to cover the cost of your books, and 2) The only hope most students have of making it through the semester without having to eat ARA every night is a big return from Uncle Sam.

Accountants, I am told by nearly everybody I know, love this time of year the same way that they love getting their hair burnt off their heads by an acetylene torch.

Just listen to these benefits of working during the tax season: You get to see your family about as often as there is a traffic-free rush hour on Route 95 in Boston; hundreds of people are screaming into your ear from 15 different phones about the various body parts they would feel obliged to relieve you of if they get audited; not to mention the fact that you get to deal with the IRS, which everybody knows is actually made up of three guys named Herb who sit around all day sniffing pencil sharpeners until they think up another revolutionary new way to reform the tax system.

Accountants are not people I envy. I once considered becoming an accountant, mostly because you can make bales of money doing it. However, after sitting through exactly thirty seconds of accounting during my senior year in high school, I thought better of it. Of course, this gave me an entire book of accounting paper that I had absolutely no logical use for. I found out that accounting paper makes really good paper airplanes, as in I could easily reach the teacher's desk from my seat in the back of the room.

But anyway, when you want to file your tax return, you have a few options. If any of your relatives have any experience in accounting (this includes successfully cheating on last year's tax return), enlist their aid for preparing your return. If they charge you for services, you have the right to shoot them in the leg.

If that option isn't available, you could go the route of most taxpayers and hire an accountant at a reputable accounting firm like Goldstein, Goldstein, Schwartz, Goldblume, and Rivera. The only thing wrong here is that you definitely will have to pay them to do your return - and you can't shoot them, even if you are audited.

The third option is to actually file the return yourself. This is something I recommend only as a last resort such as the occurrence of some catastrophic accounting disaster like the merging of the Big Six Accounting Firms down into one giant mega-firm with so much red tape that it takes 8 months for a $2 credit to be made on your Visa bill.

If you do file your own return, the most important thing you can do is get receipts. Lots of them. A good way to do this is to stand in the middle of a big shopping mall asking people to recycle their shopping receipts to save the earth.

If this doesn't work, you have the absolute right, as someone that the government soaks for millions in taxes each year, to make up receipts. In fact, the Securities and Exchange Commission Handbook explicitly states in Section 3, Paragraph 2, Seats 9 and 10 that you can make up receipts for anything you want as long as it doesn't exceed the closing value of the Dow Jones Industrial Average on the third Tuesday before filing deadline, unless your name is Michael Milken, Ivan Boesky, or Donald Trump.

I can't wait until April 16.

Contest Winner is Announced
"...Beatrice Hirt, a first year Accountancy and Finance student, was announced as winner of the $5.00 award given to the student who submitted the best name for the college newspaper.

The contest was sponsored by members of the staff in an effort to obtain a name for the paper. The entries were judged on their originality and their emphasis on some phases of Bryant life.

After considering and voting on the sixty-four entries submitted, the judges decided that Miss Hirt's entry, The Archway, was the best because under this popular place, located at the end of South Hall, the students pass to and from classes. They also gather here to comment on their studies, their teachers, campus gossip in general.

The Archway with both its meanings signifies the important place it holds in the college life at Bryant...

New Enrollment Largest in History

"...On February 25, the largest number of students to enter Bryant College at the mid-year term will be passing under the archway. With over 200 veterans signed up for the Business Administration, Accountancy and Finance, and refresher courses, and at least 50 other enrollees for the secretarial department, our school is having a difficult time to find housing space for its many out-of-town students. This large enrollment will also affect the September enrollment.

Never in the history of the school have so many students enrolled at the mid-year term. This year's enrollment is an all-time record. These students are from all parts of the United States. Very few come from Providence or near-by areas. There are even several students from out of the country to add to the college melting pot. There is a girl from the Panama Canal Zone and another from Iceland..."

During the interview, Mrs. Robinson stated that she was very much impressed with Bryant College and with the new idea of guidance counselling that is being enacted here. She went on to explain that guidance counselling is intended to help the girls to become acclimated to college life and through advice to live happier and more successful lives..."

After outlining his talk to the assembled students, Judge O'Connell continued with a more detailed explanation of the court system by explaining that there twelve District Courts in Rhode Island. These courts are spread so as to be able to cover the entire state. These courts do not have a jury, but they have the authority to try cases amounting to not more than $1000, also one year in prison is the stiffest sentence that they may impose..."

Health Services:

College Men and Cancer

by Betty Cotter

Testicular cancer is the most common cancer found among young men aged 15-35 years and strikes 5,000 to 6,000 men each year.

Symptoms of this cancer are a scrotal lump, pain, a feeling of heaviness in the scrotum or groin, scrotal swelling, and occasionally pain upon urination.

Men who have an undescended or partially descended testicles are at a much higher risk of developing testicular cancer than others.

Testicular self-exams should be part of every young man's health routine once a month. The ideal time to do this is after a warm shower when the skin is relaxed and it is easier to feel and small lumps. Roll each testicle gently between the thumb and fingers of both hands. If any lumps are found, a physician should be consulted immediately. The lump may not be cancerous, but if it is, then testicular cancer is treatable, especially in the early stages. For more information call Health Services at 232-6220.

From time to time we like to draw attention to our efforts to stay timely in the Hodgson Memorial Library. Exhibits with a theme can draw upon books shelved in more than one section of the library.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH. The Cape Verdean Artists League has kindly mounted a half dozen paintings in the vicinity of the computer network in the library. In addition library staff has assembled several black history books for the reference counter. The books about black authors may suggest a report topic to College Writing students.

MID-EAST CRISIS. We think it is important to acquire a broader understanding of the culture, psyche, religion, history and politics of the middle east peoples during these troubled times. Country studies and a variety of other books have been circulating from the reference counter.

PERSPECTIVES ON WAR. The immediacy, pain and stress of the war to liberate Kuwait is upon us. Many of us are trying to suppress our anxiety, but perhaps a longer perspective would help. Reference Assistant Gretchen McLaughlin served as the inspiration and retriever for this most recent of our mini-exhibits. Subtitles for a few of the books on the reference counter will give an indication of these other views.

Off campus, Professor Robinson was a former city councilman for Warwick where he resides and he was also on the Mayor's Council for Substance Abuse where he was honored with an award by Governor Diprete. On campus, Professor Robinson has been on every committee except the Faculty Appointment and Rank Committee. He has also recently written a test bank for the book, Exploration of the Universe which is a study of astronomy combined with the use of calculus.

Professor Robinson has recently started a special topics course on human sexuality for the first time in Bryant history. Not only did the students enjoy learning about human sexuality, but Professor Robinson thought, "It was an eye opener not only for the students but for myself." He would like to see it become a full time course.

When asked what the future will bring he answered, "I am taking a sabbatical in the fall of '91 for one semester." During this time, Professor Robinson plans on studying software for application to astronomy courses.

On behalf of the FLAC Senate Committee we would like to congratulate Professor Robinson on his many outstanding achievements and wish him good luck on his future endeavors.

In upcoming months be looking for your favorite Bryant College faculty or administrative member every other week. If you have any suggestions please send them to the FLAC Committee in care of the Student Senate box.

Slashes in Spending and Tax Hikes to Balance Deficit

Jacqueline Zhang
Archway Staff Writer

The state of Rhode Island is facing a $204.6 million deficit in its current $1.5 billion budget due to previous overspending and recession. Governor Bruce Sundlun explained that spending cuts alone are not enough to treat the huge deficit, a tax increase is necessary too.

A proposal by Governor Sundlun to balance Rhode Island's deficit includes an increase in income tax by 20%. This tax increase will be the third in three consecutive years. The proposed tax hike includes an increase of Income tax from 22.90% to 27.5%, a 5 cents per gallon increase on gas and a corporate surtax of 11% on the current 9% tax. To top off the tax hikes, sales tax will increase from 6% to 7%.

Among the proposed cuts include shrinking personnel spendings amounting to $16.4 million (this will be achieved through no-pay off and furloughs) and reducing contribution to pension funds by $42.6 million this year.

The revised budget will result in the withholding of school aids, closing of parks, massive discharging of state employees and shortening of the work week. This plan will slash spending by $145 million. The reduction in state education aid amounts to $30 million. Yet to be resolved are plans to lay off 600 workers. However it is certain that if the proposal is approved, the state government will be closed one day every other week.

College students and faculty from state supported schools will also be affected. Tuition surcharge for colleges will increase between $25 to $85. This move would generate $1.7 million. Faculty members would be requested to give up a day's pay every 2 weeks for the rest of the year. This will save the state $4.5 million.

Governor Sundlun's proposal is expected to meet strong resistance from both the assembly and state employees, not to mention the Unions which are sure to react to the reduced work weeks. The Governor's proposal is a hard pill to swallow, but it might just bring health back into the economy of Rhode Island.

When the budget and banking crisis is under control, Governor Sundlun said his administration will have programs to provide better housing for the elderly, guaranteed college education for R.I. children and lowered contribution from workers toward compensation premiums.

New Budget Includes Changes in Pell Grant

Bill Becker
Archway Staff Writer

This week, President Bush unveiled his 2,026 page plan to deal with the U.S. government's spending.

The budget was seen as a "canned" budget in many ways, by picking up proposals that had been kicked around for several years. It did, however, have some surprising developments including a severe change to the Pell Grant program.

In his budget, some of the winners were Space and scientific research, children programs, and the war on drugs. In the space area, Bush called for increased research in the SDI program. Other areas, such as general defense programs, student aid, and domestic programs including Medicare will face cuts.

In a moderate surprise, the administration recognized the national recession that they had been denying for most of the year. This was used as a means to justify this year's $318 Billion deficit, the highest ever after last year's deficit. The administration also cited the war in the Gulf and the Savings and Loan crisis as reasons.

Also surprising was the fact that the budget did not touch the recession, the current budget deficit, or the costs of the war. These will all be addressed in a supplemental budget which could be very high, depending on the foreign aid received for the war effort.

On a balance sheet, the budget is balanced as spending of $1.446 Trillion and receipts of $1.165 Trillion.

Among college students, however, the big change is in the Pell grant program. It will increase more than 50% in its maximum award but will be significantly more selective in its recipients.

In the budget proposed by President Bush, the Pell Grant, named after a Rhode Island democrat, will get an additional $401 million, or a 7% increase. The maximum Pell award available to college students will be $3700 which is up 54% from last year's $2400.

The new system is meant to counteract the trend that has shifted money from the lowest level Pell applicants to higher income levels. According to senator Pell, a large number of middle income families with salaries over $10,000 will be hurt by this new policy. The middle income families are often overlooked by the administration, Pell also stated.

In addition to the Pell changes, there will be deep cuts in Impact Aid and a restructuring of Trio, a program that helps disadvantaged people enter and compete in college.

Business Briefs:

Tax Forms for Federal, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island taxes are available on the main floor of the Bryant library.

Disney may soon move out of the large blockbuster movie area soon in favor of smaller pictures. The memo was written by Jeffrey Katzenberg, the chairman of Walt Disney Studios. He cited the shift away from its original purpose and the demands on "time, talent, and treasury" as the reasons.

The dollar hit a record low against the German mark this week. This is surprising amidst falling U.S. interest rates.

Sears plans to offer a Visa credit card in the near future. They also plan to sue Visa U.S.A. in a challenge on the ban on nonbank firms in the U.S. credit market.

Forty of his black and white photographs form a concise retrospective of off-stage lives and personalities of jazz musicians on the road during the last 50 years. This selection of works, lent by the Milt Hinton Photographic Collection, is drawn from images published in Bass Line: The Stories and Photographs of Milt Hinton, by Mr. Hinton and David G. ## Alpha Phi

by Linda Cranmer and Tara McLean

We'd like to congratulate and welcome our new pledges—you are the best, stay strong and keep up the spirit! Best of luck to all the sorority pledges—get psyched to GO GREEK!

Saturday night we had a social with TKE and we'd like to thank the brothers for their hospitality. A special appreciation goes to Chris M. for all the effort she put in for the retreat on Sunday.

We'd like to welcome in all our new officers. President- Martina Romanoff, Vice President-Linda Cranmer, Fraternity Educator-Misti Leonard, Rush Director-Jennifer Wadsworth, and Treasurer-Jennifer Hunter. To all the old officers: thanks for all your hard work this past year. We'll be sorry to see you leaving.

In awards last week, sis' goes to all, and space goes to Rizzo.

BEAC

by Marlo Rosenbloom

"We abuse the land because we regard it as a commodity belonged to us. When we see land as a community to which we belong, we may begin to use it with love and respect."—Aldo Leopold

We would like to let everyone know that BEAC saved the white goose from the reflecting pond. "Bryant" is now living in Foster Rhode Island with several other injured animals. Dr. Mary Alan, of Woonsocket Animal Hospital referred us to an animal rehabilitator.

Mrs. Sheila Graham, the rehabilitator, has been in touch with me to let us know how our goose is doing. I'd like to thank Bob Wallace, Eric Albee and Bob Weiss for waking up at 5:30am to help catch the goose. Also, thanks to Dr. Alan and Mrs. Graham for their help.

Our first meeting of the semester was February 5th. The guest speaker was William Guilmore, the energy coordinator for Bryant. On February 12th there will be a representative from Save the Bay speaking in the lobby of 16 at 6:00. She will discuss general water concerns and speak briefly about the oil spill in the Gulf. Anyone who is interested is welcome to listen to the speakers and to all of meetings.

We will be asking for your support in the ban of styrofoam and juice boxes on our campus. Please show your support by signing the petitions that are being passed around.

We will have to postpone our visit to the Central Landfill until the spring time. We will then be able to see the whole facility. Also, we are planning an informational discussion about the major oil spill in the Gulf. We hope to have several experts speak and answer some of your questions.

Our regular meetings will begin after the speaker on February 13th at 6:00 in the lobby of 16. Please bring any suggestions or concerns to the meetings. Also, please invite anyone who may be interested to sit in on one of our meetings.

Delta Chi

by Tim O'Neil

We would first like to proudly report that Bryant D-Chi's Beta class is doing great, and we're looking forward to seeing them become new brothers in the Bryant Chapter of the Delta Chi Fraternity. Keep the spirit!!!

It has been a big week for sports. D-Chi A & B came home with victories in floor hockey on Sunday. Our A-Team took the wristshots 8-4, behind "BA" Barry Ahern's four goals. Our B-Team is now 5-0!!! In basketball, D-Chi B lost to TEP, but the Delta Chi Z-Team came through with their first win. Basketball continues Wed. with our A-Team vs. Phi Kap, and our Z-Team will return to action on Thurs. Also on Thurs. D-Chi A-Hockey will take on Kappa Delta Rho.

Best of luck to our teams in college bowl. Prediction — D-Chi's "Gary's Old Town Tavern" will take it all!!!!

"Things arriving sooner than you think — Initiation!! Spring Break! White Carnation! Find a date! Graduation!!! In the meantime Live for today...."

Week 4 of Operation Desert Storm has begun...our prayers and private thoughts for the Allied Forces in the Middle East are stronger now than ever. GODS SPEED....

Delta Zeta

Since we missed last week, just to comment on formal rush-- it went great! Bonnie and Treble, we missed you. Thanks Pam for all your help. Friday, kick off was nothing less than the usual, we had a blast! We've got our new pledge class- Jasmine, Spencer, Breaker, Marquis, Stoli, Ivory, Madison and Aspen. You guys are the best. We hope everyone's pledges are hanging in there. Remember, its all worth it in the end.

We'd like to thank our unexpected guests for coming up on Friday. Saturday, we road tripped to visit our sisters at URI—can't wait to go back again, the house looks great!

We would like to congratulate JJ (Phi Kapp) on receiving the Turtle of the Week award.

Support our Troops! See ya!

Delta Kappa Epsilon

by mike levine

This week the brothers would like to thank everyone who helped to make last weekend very successful. This week in DKE sports, our basketball teams are off to a pretty good start. In basketball the B team is now 1-1 and the A team is 0-1 due to lack of an athletic director. In hockey The Great Peters is now leading the team with 42 points. Unfortunately the team took a devastating loss to slapshot.

Hillel

by Matthew Elberg

Prior to the semester break, along with the help of ARA dining services, the Hillel was permitted to light Hanukah candles in the Salmanson dining hall. The Hillel would like to thank ARA and especially the dining hall manager, Ira Polansky, for their assistance. Ira Polansky & Matthew Barret Elberg, an officer of Hillel, lit candles every night during the holidays in observation of Hanukah. Thanks again to Ira and ARA for their help.

As a reminder to those of who will be observing the Passover holiday, the dates are March 29th-April 6th. As time comes closer we will keep you up to date. There will be a holiday Seder in the Salmanson dining hall due to the help of ARA. ARA is making a strong attempt to arrange their plans to meet with the holiday needs. Please help them out by letting them know if you will be observing or joining the Seder.

In order to do the most for the students please contact the Hillel with any suggestions or questions you might have. You can reach the Hillel by contacting: Matthew Elberg, Box 1560, 232-4451; Professor Olinsky, Suite K, 232-6266; Rabbi Silverman, Ministry, 232-6045.

In order to keep you up on our upcoming events we will periodically be updating you in The Archway.

In the upcoming months, here are the events to date:

February 20: Purim Party at 4:30
March 20: Israel lecture
April 3: Passover Dinner
April 10: Holocaust lecture

Please join us and get involved in the Hillel organization and good luck for the upcoming semester. We will keep you up-to-date of any new developments. We hope you will all participate.

Shalom!

Karate Club

by Stacey Spidle

Last week was a great way to "kick" off the semester - our beginners class was a success, as well as the demo at the basketball game.

I hope the new white belts are enjoying their first week in the club. I know it's a lot different that it first looks, but you are guaranteed a great, if not interesting, time with us. At first it may be frustrating to learn all the basics and repeat them over and over, but you have to start somewhere. I know that sounds like a cliché, but I went through the same things you are going through, and if I can do it, anyone can do it. Once you have the basics mastered, combinations and fighting come next, and that's when everything just falls into place.

Kappa Delta Rho

by Jack Straw

In Sports: KDR-A basketball is off to a strong start once again with a big win over Beta and a game last night with Sig Ep. B-MAGIC romped over the Sig Eps Monday night by 46 points, but KDR-C lost a close game to Sig Ep-C later Monday night. While Slat had trouble handling the pressure, the rest of the crew was able to pick up the slack in the A game. B-MAGIC put their game out of reach early with Richard leading the way with 24 points. D-Train led the way for the C's holding the game in doubt to the final minutes. Good luck to all

The Ledger

by Peter Dillon

It is that time of year when The Ledger staff is hard at work putting together the 1991 Yearbook. The theme of this year's book is "Shedding Some Light". This theme was decided upon because of its relevance to the Bryant campus. It has been said in the past that we here at Bryant live in our own little bubble. With the changes that have been taking place on this campus and the recent outbreak of war in the Gulf, we feel that this theme is very appropriate.

In order to be able to "Shed Some Light" on the events that take place, and the people responsible for these events, we need your help. It is not possible for members of our staff to be at the events of every other organization on this campus. We are asking that you work with us to "Shed Some Light" on what you do. Articles about and pictures of your events will be greatly appreciated. We want to make this year's Ledger an all encompassing book, which takes into consideration not only the events that affect the Senior class, but also events which affect the entire Bryant Community.

If you have any suggestions, comments, or concerns please contact either Karen Gooley or Peter Dillon at the Ledger office at 232-6048 or via Box 8. Let's work together to capture the year 1990-1991.

Phi Kappa Sigma

by Mike Zimmermann

Hope everyone had a great weekend. The brothers had a fantastic one. Good luck to all the sorority pledges. In sports our A-hoop team won our first game against TKE. The B-team also beat TKE. Happy Birthday Shank!

Phi Sigma Sigma

A late welcome back to second semester to everyone. We have been very busy with Formal Rush and now we have pledges - seven of them! Congratulations to Katy, Shawn, Krista, Rachael, Megan, Arlene, and Andrea. And good luck to all the other pledges out there especially our future brothers: Ray, Bob, Gary, Jim and Tim. Hang in there! Good luck to our pledge educator Kara and assistant Melissa!

Happy birthday to Wendy - You sure make your grandmother feel old. Happy birthday to little Carrie - we all miss ya Honey and a happy birthday to our brother Descartes! Enjoy!

As for Formal Rush - A big thank you to Jill, Rush chairman and to our Rho Chi Tricia and Panhellenic E-Board member Jean - it's great to be able to associate with you guys again.

Friday we kicked off pledging. Thanks to all the fraternities who showed their support in the Roto. The Alpha Class had great enthusiasm in the Roto because they just acquired their paddles. Hopefully the Beta class will get theirs soon or at least before their big sisters and pledge mistress graduate.

That's about it for now - Have a great week! Melissa's quote of the week: "... is a tool" PHI SIG SIG TOP CAT!!!!

Student Senate

by the public relations committee

The Student Senate has been working hard as usual to please the Bryant Community. We hope everyone liked the Assembly for Hope. We're trying to get a candlelight ceremony each month for as long as the war goes on.

The Senior Class Gift is coming along nicely, and Ted Rykoski has some great ideas for activities like wine and cheese gatherings. Ad-Hoc is working on some issues like Koffler problems, chains on the crosswalk giving problems to injured or elderly, and no refunds for copies.

Andrea Sucheki needs some help and ideas for a theme and a song for this spring's Special Olympics, so let her know. We're going to have a fashion show as a fund raiser, so you all better come and see the latest men's and women's fashions!

Congratulations to Dr. Robinson for being named Faculty of the Month! Also, a happy birthday goes to Cindy Spencer! Good luck to all the sororities and fraternities and pledges!

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon kicked off the weekend at the roto for the big kickoff. Good luck to all the sorority pledges.

In Sig Ep sports, the A hockey team suffered their first loss to DKE 3-1, with Pasc scoring the lone goal. The team rebounded with an impressive victory over Beta, with Nuzz recording yet another shut-out.

The S hoop team lost a close one to KDR-B 14-64, but later on in the same night the B hoopsters were victorious over KDR-C 25-16.

In Sig-Ep billiards the Missouri Madman, placed second in the nine ball tournament, with Dan Dagle right behind him in third. Congratulations to both.

We now turn to the Gulf war and our own Cpl. Frank Sannella. As far as we know he is still safe over in Saudi Arabia and we hope he comes home soon. To the pledges, good luck and keep up the good work.

Tau Epsilon Phi

by Steve Justo

Welcome to another exciting issue. In any event, TEP had the alumni on the floor this weekend and it was a zoo. Saturday night we went through the history and after that we established an Alumni Association for the chapter.

Aside from the usual weekly alum, seeing the older guys was cool too. It's been a long time since some of those guys were here and we all had a blast. The old guys still showed they had a lot of fun left. On Sunday we all got a chance to recover from an excellent alumni turnout.

The week's MHS Award is a hands down win for Spohn! We wish Ian good luck on his exam on Tuesday.

As for sports, in B-Ball TEP B,C teams are doing good. TEP B improved its record to 2-0 after taking care of DX on Mon. B.K paced the scoring attack, and Ira was good at keeping the rebounds. TEP C improved its record to 2-0 after handing DKE a loss on Mon. night. Everyone played a good game especially Chachi, Russo, Jeff, Steve, Mike, Skippy and the rest. Keep up the good work guys.

As for hockey, A slipped to 3-1 after losing 2-0 Sun. night. B is now 2-0-1.

Well enough for now, but pledges, you guys are doing fine and keep it up.

Visions of War

by C. Hope Berenson

In the midst of trying to get back into our daily routines during Spring Semester 1991, many of us are touched by the fear of our friends and loved ones who

Sitting here, staring into the yellow ribbons
Rippling in the air
Visions of you are
Seen in the blurred Reflection
Of the tears which fill my eyes

Far away, their black bold boots Siphon through the grains of the desert sand as Thousands of other proud Soldiers
Can be seen

Through the strong rays Spanning from the luminous daystar
Patiently they wait
For the sounds of war
Reading cards from loved ones are directly involved in the war. We should take time each day to show we care because the student sitting next to you may be off to war tomorrow.

Longing for that
Sweet smell of perfume tainted on the page
Their thoughts soon turn to home

As the vision slowly trickles down my cheek
I pray for you,
For if you shall go, Proud Soldier
To defend our country
Be safe, honey
And

Hold tight the beautiful memories of the Loved ones
Waiting for you...

I'm here for you L-ski!

Losing Streak Continues

Boscetto (10 pts). For Bryant, Richie Rose led the way with 13 pts, Sacko scored 12 and Scott Meyer tallied 11. Quinnipiac out-shot Bryant from the floor, 58% to 38%.

On Saturday, Bryant traveled to Bentley College to battle the Falcons. The Indians suffered their ninth straight loss, 76-73. Freshman guard Glenn Tatro's three-point effort, that would have set the game into overtime, fell short at the buzzer.

Bryant again shot poorly in the opening half, hitting only 33% of their shots. They trailed at the intermission, 37-26, with Sacko residing on the bench in foul trouble. Bentley pushed the lead to 15 before Bryant began to rally. With Sacko shackled with 4 fouls, C.J. Simmons (17 pts) and Tatro (11 pts) stepped forward. They shouldered most of the offensive burden in the 2nd half. Sacko returned midway through the second half and finished with a quiet 18 points.

Bryant trailed by a 71-69 count with two minutes to play. Bryant's half court defense stifled Bentley. But with only 5 seconds on the shot clock, guard Marcus Stewart canned a 3-pointer that pushed the lead to five. On the next trip, Bryant scored four points, two on free throws and an inside basket by Sacko to trim the lead to one.

With 22 seconds left to play, Stewart made one free throw. He missed the second, but Bentley rebounded and ran the clock down to seven seconds before Chris Sawyer was fouled. He missed the first but made the second. Coach Reilly called a timeout to set the final play.

Bryant brought the ball full court and found Tatro at the top of the key. The closely guarded Tatro put up the jumper as time expired. It caromed off the front rim, as Bentley escaped with the victory.

Bryant's next home game will be Saturday afternoon at 3:30 against Assumption, the #11 team in Division II.

Bryant Ranked Nationally

year, rolling a 194 and losing a tough match.

The All-Conference awards were handed out as well. Dave Nagelhout and John Beldy were both second team All-Conference and Billy Webb was on the first team. Dave Nagelhout was named Rookie of the Year. Most Valuable Player went to Chris Sole of William Paterson. Bryant's coach, Ken McKenzie received the Coach of the Year Award for his efforts. Overall, it was a very successful conference season for the Indians.

Bryant recently competed in the Ebonite Fair Lanes Invitational in Baltimore, Maryland over the weekend.

The team finished 11th in a field of 28 teams that included the top teams from the eastern U.S. The top four teams were Erie Community College, Morehead St., Penn St., and the University of Maryland. Rick Arpin led all Bryant bowlers, averaging 204 for nine games. He rolled a 254 game and a team high 707 series. Dave Nagelhout rolled a big 257 and averaged 200.

Shawn McDowell cranked out a team high game of 280 while averaging 191 for the tournament. Billy Webb averaged 188, Sam Lample averaged 185, and Rob Perinka averaged 183 off the bench for Bryant. The team's high game was 1059. The team also bowled a 1051 for 5 games of Baker play, in which one game is bowled by all five team members. This set included a 254 game.

This weekend, the team will host the Bryant Invitational at Cranston Lanes in Cranston, R.I. Teams expected to compete include William Paterson, Connecticut, Lowell, and St. Peter's College.

Talk of the NHL

Michael Boulet
Archway Staff Writer

With more than half of the 1990-91, 80 game season already behind us, it's time to see what the National Hockey League has produced that's worth talking about.

The Chicago Blackhawks: A team that was considered mediocre at best, has held the #1 spot for most of the season. They have proved that Denis Savard was not the backbone of the Blackhawks. The superb goaltending of Ed Belfour is a surprise to nearly any hockey fan.

Brett Hull: Only the fifth player in the history of the NHL to score 50 goals in 50 games. Brett showed the hockey world that he could follow the footsteps that his father, Bobby Hull, set for him.

The "fight" for Eric Lindros: The most touted draft prospect since Mario Lemieux. He's sure to go #1 in the entry draft; but the big question is who will "earn" the right to him? Quebec would benefit the most from him, so wouldn't the Toronto Maple Leafs, both teams have been fighting for last place all season.

However, if Toronto finishes in last, it will be in the favor of the New Jersey Devils, who have Toronto's first pick in this year's draft.

The proposed use of instant replay: The arguments for and against video replay continue, but it looks like the NHL will possibly implement the use in the near future.

The issue of fighting in the NHL: Wayne Gretzky keeps whining to the public against fighting, but it's not working. Fighting will continue to exist in the NHL as long as the fans scream for blood. Personally, I don't believe that fighting is that serious of an issue, as long as we don't return to the wild, fighting 70s of the league.

The Savard-Chelios trade: One of the craziest centers in the league for one of the top defensemen. Sounded like a good trade at the time, but to date it has possibly been one of the most lopsided trades of the recent past. Chelios has been a key factor in Chicago's success, while Savard has not contributed much to the Canadiens' effort to bring back the days of the Flying Frenchmen.

Grant Fuhr and cocaine: Seven years of constant cocaine abuse by Edmonton's all-star netminder. He was suspended for a year, and will be eligible for reinstatement on February 20th. The NHL must come up with a long-term solution to its current absence of a drug policy!

Mario Lemieux: The superstar of the Penguins returns after missing nearly an entire season due to a back infection, and tallies 3 assists in his first game back. Unfortunately, he injured himself shortly thereafter in another game, though not too seriously. Hopefully he'll be back soon and create a little more competition in the NHL's scoring race.

All-Star selection: Mike Milbury, the Boston Bruin's coach, and this year's coach to the Prince of Wales Conference, chooses Chris "knuckles" Nilan as a second team all-star player. Though Nilan is a fine player, he is in no way deserving of being called an all-star. Calling Nilan an all-star is like calling the Minnesota North Stars Stanley Cup material. Let's hope that next year's all-star coach doesn't follow in Milbury's footsteps.

Men's Rugby Prepares for Upcoming Season

Chris Friend
Archway Staff Writer

For many of us here at Bryant, we think of Rugby as a social event, not as a legitimate sport. I am sorry to inform those who do not consider it a sport, that it's very much one and has been played competitively at Bryant since the early 80's.

Last fall, the Bryant Men's Rugby team enjoyed a very successful season with a 5-2 record. Their schedule included such school as Roger Williams, URI, Providence College, The Coast Guard Academy, with other teams from the New England area. The team, which has 34 players on the roster, was lead by Seniors Steve "Scooter" Hunt, Chief Lopez, along with Juniors P.J. Poquett, Rieco Mello, and Will Niham, and Freshman Mike Blake.

This spring, the team has games scheduled with Bentley, Babson, Tufts, Brown, and Seton Hall, along with some other teams from the fall schedule. As spring draws nearer, we should begin to think of Rugby with respect, as a team sport, and appreciate the dedication the players have to win. So keep this in mind when the Rugby team starts playing this spring, and go out and support the team.

The 1000 Point Club

Senior Julius Sacko became the 19th player in Bryant men's basketball history to top the 1000 point mark when he scored 12 in last Thursday's Quinnipiac game. Here is where Sacko stands in comparison to other members of the 1000 point club

Sacko feels that the next win will definitely put a different feeling in the team, and they will be in a winning spirit.

With Julius Sacko as the Captain of this team, he sets an example for the rest to follow. If everyone can play with the type of energy Sacko has, the season could turn around soon. Congratulations to Julius on getting his 1,000 point, and his place forever in Bryant History.
